Learning to Learn

Cross-curricular Projects

Further Studies

After Learning about Learning this course (Strengthen the Brilliance of My Child) moves into the pursuits of cross-curricular learning projects, these are developed jointly between the students, families and teaching team.

Creative and cultural arts, maths, the sciences, nature studies and life-skills are all integrated (unified) through these special projects.

Strengthen the Brilliance of My Child can be used as an advance learning supplement to standard system education or can form a cornerstone to the development of independent learners' studies.

There are now a limited number of places at the support levels of once, twice or three times per week, each session being two hours with a term lasting 12 weeks. We are ready to share this special learning experience with families from the pre-birth stage through to young people in the teenage years.

Please note that parents or guardians are also required to enrol in our Educating with Unifiedknowledge – Foundation course which empowers truly family directed learning.

Call now, begin the journey.
